powerful brands
bold ambitions

We are looking for a new Strategy Consultant to join our expert team and help create powerful brands with bold ambitions.

Our recent agency growth means that we are looking for a talented individual to support us in the Discover and Define stages of our Strategic Branding Process, helping us to build and craft progressive brands through insight-led strategy and brilliant storytelling.

We work on a broad range of complex branding and communication challenges, designing creative solutions that achieve transformational change for clients across a diverse range of sectors in the UK and Internationally. Whether it's harnessing sport for social change, redefining the future of education, or helping to make London a truly sustainable city – we're working on exciting projects every day.

You'll be joining an experienced senior strategy team providing expert brand consultancy to a wide range of clients. This is a brilliant opportunity for you to shape your career and develop your strategy expertise and skills working alongside these senior players, and play an integral part in the next stage of our agency's development.

We're looking for a strong critical thinker and problem solver, with the perfect balance of creativity and analytical skills, who's naturally curious with a deep passion for branding, culture and trends. Someone able to confidently build relationships, and influence and inspire others.

Our ideal candidate is someone who has:

- 5–7 years minimum brand/strategy experience in an agency or client side role
- a solid understanding of the core ideas and principles of brand strategy – positioning, naming, architecture, tone of voice, messaging, creative briefing – with proven experience working on strategic projects in these areas
- outstanding written and verbal communication skills, with a high attention to detail
- relevant research experience, with confidence to lead interviews and the ability to analyse and interpret complex information to create actionable insights
- proven ability to structure and write a range of compelling and persuasive reports and presentations
- a love of storytelling and creative writing to express the essential truth at the heart of every brand narrative
- an understanding of the consultancy process and the ability to listen carefully to diverse stakeholders before formulating clear insights and crafting brand platforms
- a strong belief in collaborative teamwork balanced with the ability to work autonomously
- a degree level qualification.

We know that successful brand consultants come in many shapes and sizes and from many different backgrounds and experiences.

If you can demonstrate that you have solid experience and capabilities, with a passion to learn and a genuine belief in the power of strategic branding then we'd love to hear from you.
